MC and Entertainer - Jackie Clarke

Jackie Clarke is a well-known kiwi face and has been gracing our New Zealand TV screens for more years than she'd probably like to count. We all remember her BLING on New Zealand Idol not so long ago, however before this, Jackie acted on TV3's hit comedy series 'Skitz' and has made numerous television cameo appearances, including on 'Saturday Live', 'Nightline', 'Options' and featured in television advertisements for Lotto and the electoral roll. She wrote and presented the documentary Wise Women and Song for TV One's Work of Art. In 1998 she toured in 'Joseph and the Amazing Technicolour Dreamcoat'. Jackie's versatile vocal chords have mastered opera at the Mercury, Cole Porter at Downstage and country'n'western. As well as crooning at Christmas in the Park, she has toured and recorded with Annie Crummer, Putty, The Netherworld Dancing Toys, Paul McCartney, Ray Charles, the New Zealand Symphony Orchestra and the New Zealand Brass Quintet.

A hat fanatic and rumba queen, Jackie is a life member of the Carmen Miranda Adoration Society! Jackie is the consummate professional who will add her own unique flair and pizzazz to our awards evening.

Awards Entertainment

The Lady Killers is a dream team of some of New Zealand's iconic female vocalists. From whisper to a scream and everything in between, Tina Cross, Suzanne Lynch and Jackie Clarke make beautiful sounds bursting with harmony and power. The Lady Killers' approach is simple: Take good songs and make them great by lovingly accessorising them with harmony.

The Lady Killers sound defies pigeonholing, wilfully crossing genres from pop, R&B, jazz, gospel, country to a whole lotta rock and gleefully name-checking iconic artists such as Queen, The Beatles, Neil Young, Neil Finn and Dolly Parton. These gals can sing anything that takes their fancy!

A Lady Killers performance is a vibrant dazzling vocal tour de force full of wonderful pin-drop moments, warmly presented by three women who know how to entertain and have a good laugh too!
